The picture on the left is of indomitable Boman Irani. And mind you, this is not a scene from one of his recent Bollywood films. Irani landed in a wheelchair after debilitating pain in his lower back. After trying multiple painkillers and balms available over the counter, in vain, he consulted a battery of doctors. After all, it's been almost a year now that he's not in action. An MRI scan revealed that he had a herniated disc at lumbar segment 4 and 5, which was causing the pain radiating down to his right leg. "Even sitting and sleeping had become difficult. I was told – go in for surgery!" Boman recalled wryly.

"My son Danish had surgery for back pain three years ago. And his pain returned. We tried physiotherapy but the pain just stubbornly kept coming back. A second surgery was recommended. That got me worried. I was beginning to think back pain ran in the family. Danish's life had come to a standstill. And my own discomfort had grown so intense, I wasn't able to do regular daily activities. I had no idea it could get that bad," Boman admitted.

He was considering surgery, for both himself and Danish is the only option when a senior orthopaedic surgeon suggested they do a Digital Spine Analysis (DSA) at the Qi Spine Clinic. Full of hope, Boman and Danish went the very next day. "There, a young doctor who put me through a Spine Function Test. It lasted for about 40 minutes and was done on these huge machines. The test result came in pretty quick and it was nothing less than amazing. My problem turned out to be a weak spine. But the doctor, a self-assured lady Spine Rehab Specialist, was absolutely confident that Qi Spine Clinic would rid me of my back pain for good in three months." Boman said.

The DSA not only taught him what six months of studying MRIs and X-rays had not, but it changed the way Boman thought about his back pain. Danish and he began the clinic's Spine Rehabilitation Program immediately. "I was already impressed by their methods and technology but what wowed me was the precise knowledge of the young doctors working there. It came from years of intense specialized study, I was told," said Boman. He could confidently endorse that since his back pain went away in just three weeks. "In less than a month, I was back in action & resumed work on my films. Danish did not need that second surgery. He's back to normal, too," said the actor with a smile on his face.

From excruciating back pain to the freedom he got after heading to the Spine Rehabilitation Program, Boman concluded, "I cannot express the immense relief of being finally relieved of that torturous pain. I regret that I ignored it for long and did not know about the [Qi Spine Clinic \(\[https://www.qispine.com/?utm_source=TOI-Web&utm_medium=banner&utm_campaign=boman_irani\]\(https://www.qispine.com/?utm_source=TOI-Web&utm_medium=banner&utm_campaign=boman_irani\)\)](https://www.qispine.com/?utm_source=TOI-Web&utm_medium=banner&utm_campaign=boman_irani) earlier. They got Danish and me back on our feet. This young medical team, and I'm so proud of the great work they are doing. No wonder people from different corners of the country and the world come down to be treated by them. Back pain is not a lifestyle-related problem; it's a 21st-century disease. I tell people, 'Don't suppress or ignore back pain, do the Spine Rehabilitation Program right away.' For once, they know, I'm not acting!"
